MONTHLY COMMENTARY

Our fund benchmark, the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Net Rental Index, recorded a net total USD return of 2.37% in October. The best performing listed real estate market was the U.K., which recorded a total USD return of 10.30% for the month. Canada recorded the lowest total USD return of 0.14%.

This month was characterised by several notable corporate activity events across the globe and various sub-sectors. We will share a few of the key events below.

In the industrial sector, Prologis (PLD) announced an agreement to acquire Liberty Property Trust (LPT) in an all-stock transaction equating to $12.6 billion, including the assumption of debt, expanding PLD's portfolio by around 20%. PLD is currently the world's largest industrial REIT with a portfolio consisting of around three quarters of U.S. assets with the remainder in global assets. LPT owns assets largely in the U.S. with a small exposure to the U.K. LPT shareholders will receive 0.675 of PLD shares per each LPT share they own - an offer that was initially priced at a 20% premium to LPT's preceding closing share price at the time of announcement. Both the board of directors of PLD and the board of trustees of LPT unanimously approved the transaction.

PLD plans to dispose of around $3.5 billion worth of assets comprising $2.8 billion of non-core logistics properties and $700 million of U.S. office properties currently owned by LPT. The merger rationale is said to increase PLD's presence in target markets within the U.S. such as Lehigh Valley, Chicago, Houston, Central Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Southern California. The deal is expected to create immediate cost synergies of approximately $120 million from general and administrative costs, operating leverage, lower interest expense and lease adjustments. PLD has a proven track record of acquiring portfolios with meaningful market overlap and achieving cost synergies, most recently evidenced by its acquisition of DCT in 2018. The transaction is expected to be accretive to Core Funds from Operations and is expected to close in early 2020. PLD returned 2.98% while LPT returned 15.08% in USD during the month of October.

In the data centre sector, Digital Realty Trust (DLR) announced an agreement to acquire Interxion (INXN) for $8.5 billion in an all-stock deal. DLR is a global data centre owner with around 80% of assets in the U.S., while INXN is a pan-European data centre company. Interxion shareholders will receive 0.7067 shares in DLR per each INXN share resulting in a mid-to-high teen premium to INXN's share price when rumours of corporate activity began circulating in early October, however not very dissimilar to the closing price on the date of announcement. INXN has been exploring sale opportunities and expressed a desire to become a global platform so the news was to an extent anticipated by the market. Global platform in the data centre space is beneficial due to the multi-national presence of many tenants and post deal, DLR's exposure to Europe will double to 30%. From a strategic perspective the merger makes sense as INXN will complement DLR's network-dense connectivity capabilities and the combined entity will expand its global presence. The deal is anticipated to close in 2020. DLR returned -2.13% while INXN returned 8.30% in USD during the month.

Overall, real estate fundamentals remain healthy, mainly due to manageable supply levels relative to demand. The estimated forward FAD (Funds Available for Distribution) yield for the sector is 4.46%, and medium-term growth prospects are decent. Listed real estate has performed well this year and, on the whole, appears to be fairly priced given our USD real return requirement of approximately 4.98% and current global bond yields. Within the real estate universe, more attractively priced opportunities exist in specific real estate sectors and stocks.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

This specialist fund offers real estate focus, with global diversification. The real estate focus is through real estate securities with a specific bias towards stocks classified as investors, as opposed to developers. The investor classification is defined as those stocks that have 70% or more of their income derived from rent. The guiding principle is the ownership of real estate assets, primarily to earn rental related income streams which provide a stable underpin to long term returns. Global diversification is across geographic regions, currencies, countries and real estate types. The intention is to provide an attractive risk-adjusted return to form part of a multi asset class portfolio. The fund benchmark is the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Rental Index, which comprises of stocks in the following regions: United States, Canada, UK, Europe, Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore, Australia and New Zealand.

SPECIFIC FUND RISK

|---------------------------|--|
| Foreign Investment risk: | Foreign securities investments may be subject to risks pertaining to overseas jurisdictions and markets, including (but not limited to) local liquidity, macroeconomic, political, tax, settlement risks and currency fluctuations. |
| Property risk: | Investments in real estate securities can carry the same risks as investing directly in real estate itself. Real estate prices move in response to a variety of factors, including local, regional and national economic and political conditions, interest rates and tax considerations. |
| Currency exchange risk: | Changes in the relative values of individual currencies may adversely affect the value of investments and any related income. |
| Geographic / Sector risk: | For investments primarily concentrated in specific countries, geographical regions and/or industry sectors, their resulting value may decrease whilst portfolios more broadly invested might grow. |
| Equity investment risk: | Value of equities (e.g. shares) and equity-related investments may vary according to company profits and future prospects as well as more general market factors. In the event of a company default (e.g. bankruptcy), the owners of their equity rank last in terms of any financial payment from that company. |

DISCLAIMER

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CISs are traded at the ruling price and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. The collective investment scheme may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Manager. There is no guarantee in respect of capital or returns in a portfolio. A CIS may be closed to new investors in order for it to be managed more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. CIS prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, STT, VAT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee and custodian fees and the annual management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of participatory interests (units) in issue. Forward pricing is used. The Fund's Total Expense Ratio (TER) reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TERs. During the phase in period TERs do not include information gathered over a full year. Transaction Costs (TC) is the percentage of the value of the Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Fund's underlying assets. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impacts Fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. The Catalyst Global Real Estate RE Prescient Feeder Fund has a Total Expense Ratio of 1.45%. For the period from 1 July 2018 to 30 June 2019, 1.45% of the average Net Asset Value of the portfolio was incurred as charges, levies, fees related to the management of the portfolio. A Feeder Fund is a portfolio that invests in a single portfolio of a collective investment scheme which levies its own charges and which could result in a higher fee structure for the feeder fund. Where a current yield has been included for Funds that derive its income primarily from interest bearing income, the yield is a weighted average yield of all underlying interest bearing instruments as at the last day of the month. This yield is subject to change as market rates and underlying investments change. The Manager retains full legal responsibility for any third-party named portfolio. Where foreign securities are included in a portfolio there may be potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risks, political risks, foreign exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information. The investor acknowledges the inherent risk associated with the selected investments and that there are no guarantees. Please note that all documents, notifications of deposit, investment, redemption and switch applications must be received by Prescient by or before 13:00 (SA), to be transacted at the net asset value price for that day. Where all required documentation is not received before the stated cut off time Prescient shall not be obliged to transact at the net asset value price as agreed to. Funds are priced at either 3pm or 5pm depending on the nature of the Fund. Prices are published daily and are available on the Prescient website. Performance has been calculated using net NAV to NAV numbers with income reinvested. The performance for each period shown reflects the return for investors who have been fully invested for that period. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestments and dividend withholding tax. Full performance calculations are available from the manager on request. For any additional information such as fund prices, brochures and application forms please go to www.catalyst.co.za.
